LBH SEND Advisory Service - Advice Line

During this critical period of remote working and school closures, the Send Advisory Service will be offering support to parents, of children and young people with SEND and the professionals that work with these families via an advice line.

We can help with resources/activities or just general advice during these uncertain times.

You may wish to contact us to discuss the following:

- Resources or advice for children and young people with Autism
- Resources or advice for children and young people with sensory impairment difficulties
- Resources or advice for children and young people with other Special Educational Needs & Disabilities
- Fun activities for the whole family
- Activities to help keep children and young people who are attending educational settings engaged
- Support with successful risk assessing (educational settings)
- Sign-posting to existing council services

To access support, please email:

- sasinclusion@hillington.gov.uk who specialise in providing support for children and young people aged 2 and above
- saskeywork@hillington.gov.uk who specialise in providing whole family guidance and support
- sassensory@hillington.gov.uk who specialise in providing support for children and young people with sensory impairment difficulties

Please provide us with the following information:

- Your name and the telephone number you would like to be contacted on;
- The name of your child's school;
- Times and dates you are not available;
- A brief description of the type of support/advice that you need

We are uncertain of the demand for this type of support however; we aim to get back to you within 24 hours
